Dear Physics Department Chair-

APS is looking for a PhD Physicist to lead our public outreach department. If you know of a suitable candidate, we hope that you will bring this position to his or her attention. Qualified people will have a creative, self starting and interactive personality, excellent communication and organizational skills; the ability to work with deadlines; and strong proficiency in utilizing the Internet in the area of web page maintenance. Responsibilities include maintaining the APS public outreach website, 'PhysicsCentral'; overseeing the APS middle school outreach activity, 'PhysicsQuest'; collaborating on other APS outreach initiatives; and supervision of a public outreach specialist. This position is based at APS headquarters in College Park, MD. More information about current and recent APS outreach programs can be obtained from www.physicscentral.com (click on physics projects). Competitive starting salary and outstanding benefits package offered. Applicants should send their cover letters (include salary requirement), résumés and reference contact information to: Director of Human Resources at personnel@aps.org. Thank you very much for any assistance you can offer.

Best regards,

Joe Ignacio
